ABCDE: Academic Bank of Credits for Development of Entrepreneurship

After taking admission, the credit of the trainees who have received training will be deposited in the ABCDE and the record of credits of each trainees will be available online. To run all such self-reliance based entrepreneurial course successfully it is also proposed to establish ABCDE: Academic Bank of Credits for Development of Entrepreneurship, which will store entrepreneurial-academic credits earned by trainees and allow learners who drop out at some point to continue with courses through more flexible and wider training opportunities.

ABCDE would be a virtual entity to be established and managed by MeitY Project staff. It will also allow them for suitable exit and re-entry points. This flexibility will be very useful for the trainees. The online training system of MeitY project can also be utilised to reach out to rural students. Technology would be particularly helpful for tribal students and other students from the weaker sections who find it physically difficult to access project facilities. The greater use of online facilities will also help overcome problems of shortage of faculty and other resources. It would function like a commercial bank which students as customers and account holders to whom the bank will provide a variety of services including credit verification and certificate/diploma authentication. The entrepreneurial-academic credits earned by a trainee can be automatically credited to his/her account. After accumulation of credits to certain NSQF level(s), the student can redeem the credits for any entrepreneurial purpose or MSME purpose at any convenient time.

It will facilitate integration of section-wise online training and distributed training environment by creating course mobility of trainees within inter and intra-states i.e. M.P., U.P., CG, JH, Bihar and M.H.. It works on the principle of multiple entry-multiple exit from a course and provides mobility between Diploma/ Certificate Programme. All credits required for an award of certification will be available through ABCDE transcript. The transcript may also mention specific grades to indicate performance level of the concerned trainee for each section or unit, or for entire session. It may also reveal the difficulty level of the particular section.

The major functions of ABCDE are credit accumulation, credit transfers and credit redemption. The credit system could be highly beneficial to the trainees as it will percolate the autonomy to its lowest level. Trainees, parents, MeitY Project Staffs, industries and statutory bodies under MoUs will be the stakeholders of this ABCDE. The ABCDE will entail transfer of credits from one section to another, one entrepreneurial sector to another, one specialization to the other to facilitate migration of trainees between MSME sectors formally qualified to be a part of the system. Each and all trainees will be imparted training in 3 sections. In which they will have skill & entrepreneurial development training according to the MSME sectors of the course they have selected in section one. And in section two, the details of different types of companies will be provided to the trainees and according to them the registration of that company will also be done via MCA, GoI. In this order, the trainees were trained to take financial assistant by providing various schemes of the Government of India for specific sector. For this, online application will be applied for loan on psb59minutesonline.com portal of GoI. In section 3, trainees will be functional with preparation of PPR/DPR and allotment of industrial land as per requirement. Credits have been prescribed in all these trainings and the credit is to be fixed on the certificate of company registration earned by them, DPR for the enterprise, application made for loan, etc. and on this basis, they will also be examined.

Online admission and online teaching learning activities:

Under the MeitY project, 24 certificate courses and 21 diploma courses have been designed and prepared by the board of studies, which have been designed for different sectors under the project and NSQF Level 4 certificate course and NSQF Level 5 diploma courses are to be conducted for various skill sectors. Under the scope of MeitY project, it has been recommended that the incorporation of entrepreneurial educational training is an innovation towards solving the problem of joblessness among the youths and after completing the course, the trainees will come out with a certificate and become a successful entrepreneur as self-reliant youth. To make the youth with right exposure, the curriculum will be developed with the objective of achieving the goal of becoming a successful selfreliant keeping in mind the right opportunities-training, necessary technical know-how, right orientation-opportunities, skill education, excel and entrepreneurially education. An online website has been created to conduct these courses. In this online admission, teaching learning activities will be made through digital medium, entrepreneurship training and skill training will be conducted digitally. The examinations will also be conducted online. For this, online dashboard and online medium have been prepared.

PARAKH and Term End Examination:

The term end examination marks will be decided on the basis of internal assessment and external assessment. These assessments will be determined on the basis of PARAKH. The ABCDE will be integrated with PARAKH (which stands for Performance Assessment, Review, and Analysis of Knowledge for Holistic Development of Entrepreneurship) to be set up as a standard examination setting for all trainees for different sectors come under the scope of MeitY project like Food Processing sector, Textiles sector, Ayush sector, Renewable Energy sector, Chemicals sector, Agriculture sector, Electronics and Information Technology sector, Forest products sector, Mining & steel sector, Jal Shakti sector, Rural Bussiness sector, Tourism sector, Tribal skill sector, Dairying and Fisheries sector, Sports sector, Pujan Samagri Sector, Plastic & Rubber sector, MSME and Startups of different sectors under NSQF level-4 and level-5. The assessment will be done on various grounds including Self-Assessment, Extra-Curriculum Assessment, External Knowledge Assessment, DPR Assessment, Company Registration Assessment, Loan Assessment etc. The grade point score will be prepared and based on ABCDE records subsequently they will get certificate or diploma award. For this, the trainees will have to take admission and submit the required documents and get enrollment number and batch-wise admissions will be done as rolling admission so that the trainees can be trained in the target time. Under MeitY project, the training is being given to the candidates to make them self-reliant, whoever takes admission will be passed out with successful getting certificate / diploma and by making him as a successful entrepreneur. Hence, the trainees will also become an entrepreneur along with certificate / diploma award. All the above courses have been designed as a way to salvaging the prevalent joblessness by evaluating the need to make it entrepreneurially self-reliant. A total of 5400 trainees are to be trained through these courses under MeitY project, in which admission will be given on first come first serve basis.
