ABOUT THE UNIVERSITY

The Indira Gandhi National Tribal University (IGNTU), Amarkantak (M.P.) is a Central University established in April 2008 by an Act of the Parliament of India as a catalyst for spreading quality education, training, research, and consultancy in higher education. The University is spread over 375 acres of land adjoining the Biosphere Reserve and the primitive tribal hamlets. The landscape of the campus is very picturesque, creating a peaceful and serene atmosphere. Being a central university having jurisdiction across the country, the University has also established a regional campus at Imphal in Manipur. The University has adopted National Education Policy 2020 w.e.f. the academic year 2021-22. There are currently 33 Departments under 13 various faculties.

ABOUT THE SEMINAR

The aim of the seminar is to discuss and debate on the various ways of promoting Entrepreneurship culture amongst the indigenous populace of the country. India has seen an increase in number of entrepreneurs during the last few decades however the tribal populace of the country has relatively lesser participation. Although many from the tribal communities engage in manufacturing and trading, majority continue to depend on agriculture, unorganized businesses and jobs. Even for few entrepreneurs from tribal areas, there are others issues also such as access to latest technologies, skilled labor, and market linkage among others. Therefore, this seminar is designed to discuss and debate about the various means of promoting entrepreneurship amongst the tribal communities which will help in enhancing the socio-economic conditions of the tribal people and which is also essential for India's economic growth. The famous slogan of the Hon'ble Prime Minister Narendra Modi "Sab Ka Saath Sab Ka Vikaas" is a symbol of government's intention to promote every section and every community in India. Furthermore, the Govt. of India is focusing on increasing the manufacturing and generation of employment through developing entrepreneurship culture.
